But not alone the lyric fire
Was his; the drama's muse can tell
His genius could a Kean inspire;
A Kenble owned his magic spell;
A Kean, to "Brutus" "self so true,
(As true to Art and Nature's laws)
He seemed the man the poet drew,
And shared with him the town's applace

Kind hearts and brave, with truth severe
He drew, unconscious from his own;
O nature rare! But pilgrim's here
Will old 'nest say, in pensive tone,
With reverent face and lifted hand,
"Twas he—by Fortune forced to roam—
When, homeless, in a foreign land,
So sweetly sang the joys of home!"
